

	well grounded in law, fact, and policy.
C. Engage in factual development and legal research.	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Creating and executing a factual development plan that is efficient and thorough. 2. Gathering relevant facts through document review, interviewing, and investigation. 3. Compiling, organizing, and synthesizing facts learned from a factual investigation. 4. Identifying legal issues raised by factual scenarios. 5. Developing a legal research strategy that is efficient and thorough. 6. Effectively utilizing a variety of legal research tools. 7. Locating, analyzing, and synthesizing primary and secondary sources relevant to legal issues.
D. Communicate effectively in both written and oral form.	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Drafting and editing documents that objectively analyze a legal problem. 2. Drafting and editing documents designed to persuade a reader. 3. Drafting and editing documents that create legal rights and obligations. 4. Writing documents that are well-organized,

	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 2. Identifying and explaining the applicable law governing lawyers. 3. Using the law governing lawyers to recognize and to help resolve ethical and other professional dilemmas. 4. Understanding the importance of assisting individuals with their unmet legal needs.
F. Use skills to participate competently as a member of the legal profession.	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Communicating, orally and in writing, in a manner appropriate to the audience and context. 2. Counseling clients to make decisions in their best interests. 3. Drafting pleadings, briefs, memoranda, and correspondence. 4. Negotiating on behalf of clients.
G. Engage with legal concepts on a policy level and understand the place of law within society.	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Identifying major policy issues that impact the legal system in the United States. 2. Identifying how laws and lawyers can improve the human condition. 3. Communicating their opinion on policy issues related to the law while